

Name _____

Date: _____

Teacher: _____

US HISTORY #25-GROWTH, CITIES, AND IMMIGRATION

Directions: While watching the video, fill in the blanks.

Manhattan	cities	Asian	politics	subways
Irish	German	Chinese	opportunity	farm

- 1. Following a major economic downturn in the 1890s, _____ prices made a comeback, and that drew more and more people out west.
- 2. One of the central reasons that so many people moved out West was that the demand for agricultural products was increasing due to the growth of _____.
- 3. The city leading the way in this urban growth was New York, especially after _____ was consolidated.
- 4. The _____ had primarily been farmers in the motherland, but in America, they tended to stay in cities like New York and Boston.
- 5. Some of the most famous _____ immigrants became brewers.
- 6. _____ immigrants, overwhelmingly male, had been coming to the United States, mostly to the West, since the 1850s to work in mines and on the railroads.
- 7. _____ immigrants continued to face discrimination in the form of vigilante-led riots, like the one in Rock Springs, Wyoming that killed 26 people.
- 8. Most immigrants to America were coming for the most obvious reason:
_____
- 9. Things got a little bit better with the construction of elevated railroads and, later, _____ that helped relieve traffic congestion.
- 10. Another response to urban problems was _____ which, in cities like New York, became something of a contact sport.

Name _____

Date: _____

Teacher: _____

US HISTORY #25-GROWTH, CITIES, AND IMMIGRATION

Directions: Write one thing you think you know about the topic.

1. _____
_____

Directions: While watching the video, fill in the blanks.

- 1. Following a major economic downturn in the 1890s, _____ prices made a comeback, and that drew more and more people out west.
- 2. One of the central reasons that so many people moved out West was that the demand for agricultural products was increasing due to the growth of _____.
- 3. The city leading the way in this urban growth was New York, especially after _____ was consolidated.
- 4. The _____ had primarily been farmers in the motherland, but in America, they tended to stay in cities like New York and Boston.
- 5. Some of the most famous _____ immigrants became brewers.
- 6. _____ immigrants, overwhelmingly male, had been coming to the United States, mostly to the West, since the 1850s to work in mines and on the railroads.
- 7. _____ immigrants continued to face discrimination in the form of vigilante-led riots, like the one in Rock Springs, Wyoming that killed 26 people.
- 8. Most immigrants to America were coming for the most obvious reason:
_____
- 9. Things got a little bit better with the construction of elevated railroads and, later, _____ that helped relieve traffic congestion.
- 10. Another response to urban problems was _____ which, in cities like New York, became something of a contact sport.

Name _____

Date _____

Teacher: _____

Answer Key

US HISTORY #25-GROWTH, CITIES, AND IMMIGRATION

Directions: While watching the video, fill in the blanks.

Manhattan	cities	Asian	politics	subways
Irish	German	Chinese	opportunity	farm

- 1. Following a major economic downturn in the 1890s, _____ farm prices made a comeback, and that drew more and more people out west.
- 2. One of the central reasons that so many people moved out West was that the demand for agricultural products was increasing due to the growth of cities.
- 3. The city leading the way in this urban growth was New York, especially after Manhattan was consolidated.
- 4. The Irish had primarily been farmers in the motherland, but in America, they tended to stay in cities like New York and Boston.
- 5. Some of the most famous German immigrants became brewers.
- 6. Chinese immigrants, overwhelmingly male, had been coming to the United States, mostly to the West, since the 1850s to work in mines and on the railroads.
- 7. Asian immigrants continued to face discrimination in the form of vigilante-led riots, like the one in Rock Springs, Wyoming that killed 26 people.
- 8. Most immigrants to America were coming for the most obvious reason: opportunity.
- 9. Things got a little bit better with the construction of elevated railroads and, later, subways, that helped relieve traffic congestion.
- 10. Another response to urban problems was politics, which, in cities like New York, became something of a contact sport.